

Proclamation of Support for Nigerian Youth

Lemna Corporation is a US company with operations throughout the world. We develop and finance infrastructure projects totaling billions of USD since 1985. In Nigeria, we are working in hundreds of millions of USD of construction projects.

Recently, we built and own the first US boarding school to train Nigerian youth to attend North American universities and develop a long-term career path. This school is called the Lemna American University Preparatory Academy (LAUPA) located in beautiful Abeokuta near Lagos.

Lemna cares about the future of Nigerian youth and we therefore pledge the following support:

1. We will match 50% of the tuition of LAUPA to the first 50 students who will enroll in this program in September of 2009.
2. When these students graduate from North American universities through our program, we will support them by giving them priority for job openings with prestigious Lemna companies throughout the world. In Nigeria, there are already several Lemna companies which will endeavor to support these students who want to come back home to foster distinguished careers after obtaining US education and training.
3. This offer is to show Lemna's commitment to Nigeria for the long-term development of the country through nurturing of the next generation of leaders.

I am pleased to give not only the corporate but also my personal support for this worthy cause. By encouraging Nigerian youth to attend LAUPA, we will contribute to a better future for Nigeria.

Besides the 50% matching for tuition, Lemna will also work with Nigerian banks to offer financing for the rest of the tuition in order to lessen the burden of payment for parents.

I look forward to welcoming the first group of students to LAUPA this September!
